As a junior software developer I am constantly striving to improve my skills and learn new technologies. I stepped into this big Tech world just a year ago and I found myself very flexible and adaptive to learning new things. Now I am looking for new challenges and opportunities to use my skills to build innovative and high-quality web and mobile applications

Experience

Mentor/Lecturer @ Bitcamp
January 2023 – Present

- As a mentor and lecturer in web technologies, particularly React, my role is to educate and guide students and aspiring developers in the latest trends and techniques in the field. I help them develop their skills and knowledge in web development, from beginner to advanced levels.

Full-Stack Developer @ Axioma AI
April 2023 – June 2023

- As a FullStack developer at Axioma AI I made an AI prototype that simplifies communication processes with customers for small and medium-sized businesses.
- I integrated OpenAI and Google APIs
- Connected pinecone vector base to store information needed for the AI
